

Boston Law Collaborative Institute
Training | Coaching | Publications

What Makes People Tick?
An Introduction to the Internal Family Systems Model for Mediators, Lawyers, and Other Professionals

BLC's David Hoffman will present the basic elements of the model and how it can be used to improve the work that we do with clients, colleagues, and others. Developed by psychologist and Harvard faculty member Dr. Richard Schwartz, the IFS model provides useful tools for enhancing our self-understanding and our understanding of others.

Participation via Zoom, with a cap on enrollment of 45 participants.

Cost: $100, with scholarships available if needed.

Date: March 11, 2021 (9:00 AM – 12:30 PM)

Meet the Faculty

David Hoffman, Esq. is a mediator, arbitrator, Collaborative Law attorney, and founding member of Boston Law Collaborative, LLC. David teaches three courses at Harvard Law School, where he is the John H. Watson, Jr. Lecturer on Law: Mediation; Diversity and Dispute Resolution; and Legal Profession: Collaborative Law. David has completed Level One training in the IFS Model, and has co-led workshops on the use of this model for lawyers and mediators with Dr. Richard Schwartz and other clinicians. David has published three books on dispute resolution, including "Bringing Peace into the Room" (with co-editor Daniel Bowling) (Jossey-Bass 2003). He lives in a cohousing community in Acton, Massachusetts, and has three adult children and an adolescent cat.

To register, visit blc.law/calendar-of-programs

Boston Law Collaborative Institute (a 501(c)(3) organization) provides training, education, and coaching in all aspects of dispute resolution.